The winter palace of the ezar surpasses any other palace in Europe. It is on the banks of the Neva and owes its existence to the Empress Catherine II, that most extraordinary woman, extraordinary in ability and in vice, the surprise of all her contemporaries and the wonder of all who have studied her character. The building is four stories high, of a light brown color and highly ornamental in architecture. It is a wilderness of halls, stairways and apartments. The Nicholas hall and the St. Georgo's hall will never be forgotten by those who have seen them.

An Emperor's Attic.

One of the most interesting rooms is that where Nicholas I died. It is in the upper story of the northeast corner of the building and is approached by four doors and finally by a narrow passage. It is a small room, only about 18 feet long and 12 feet wide, with two small windows, and is the place where the emperor spent most of his time when not officially employed. It is the room in which he died, some say by poison administered by himself in a fit of melancholy induced by the outcome of the Crimean war. The room remains just as he left it. Near the center is a plain iron bedstead. Some chairs and a few cheap pictures adorn the room, and a dilapidated, down at the heel pair of slippers complete the furnishings of the attic room in the palace.

The Ashantees See Sights.

The natives of these Jaman villages had never seen a white man before, and I noticed at first with some surprise that those of our actions which interested them most were the simple and commonplace ones. To such matters as oating and dressing they gave the closest attention. Every morning when I emerged from my tent I found a large audience waiting patiently for the performance to begin, and when I took my place at the washstand a growd closed round, forming a large circle. They followed the whole process with the greatest enjoyment, discussing and explaining to one another the various details and now and again raising shouts of opplaned as some peculiarly amusing feature of the performance (such as the are of the nailbrush) occurred. When I produced a y toothbrush and proceeded to put it to its natural use, there was me h anxious discussion, and when I bruseed my hair up and made it stand on e d they yelled with delight.

As fer the opening of a bottle of chair pagne, which occurred on one occasion after an neuscally long march) it amply brought down the house, althe 7th the spectators somewhat abruptly dispersed and viewed the remainder of the performance around the corners ef adjacent but- -- "Freeman's Travels and Life In Ashauti."

The Black Hele of Calcutta.

A scientist, writing of the black hele of Calcutta and its almosphere, says: "On the 20th of June, 1756, about 8 o'clock in the evening, 146 men were forced at the point of the bayonet into a dangeou 18 feet square. They had been but a few minutes confined in this infernal prison before every one fell into a perspiration so profuse that no idea can be formed of it. This brought on a raging thirst, the most difficult respiration and an outrageous delirium. Such was the horror of their situation that every insult that could be devised against the grard without and all the opprobrious names the vicercy and his officers could be loaded with were repeated to provoke the guard to fire upon them and terminate their sufferings. Before 11 o'clock the same evening onethird of the men were dead, and before 6 next morning only 23 came out alive. but most of them in a high putrid fever. All these dreadful effects were occasioned by the want of atmospheric air and by their breathing a superabundant quantity of nitrogen emitted from their lungs.

Eyeglasses and Spectacles.

"You say you never wore spectacles?" said the near sighted man. "Well, if you ever put on a pair you'll never wear anything elso. I wore eyeglasses for years. I thought they looked better on me, and then I imagined that they were more convenient; that I could take them off and put them on more readily and all that. But after wearing a pair of spectacles once for a few days -I had put them on, as I thought at first, temporarily-I discovered that spectacles were the glasses for comfort. "There are, to be sure, people who do not wear glasses all the time, but only for reading or writing, and so on, to whom eyeglasses may be more convenient, and then I believe that eyeglasses are made nowadays that have more scientifically adjusted grips, and all that sort of thing, but I tell you that the thing for real comfort is spectacles."-New York Sun.

"Beauty and Power."
The secret of a woman's power is in her complete womanliness, both phys-lical and mental. This ical and mental. This does not mean perfection of outline nor regularity of features. It does not mean wit, nor talents nor accom-plishments. It means that plishments. It means that physical attractiveness that comes from perfect bodily condition and the bright, happy cheerfulness of disposition which only complete health can insure. A woman with a bright eye, clear complexion, mantling color in the cheeks and buoyant clastic step and manner has a natural attractiveness that no artificial sgency can counterfeit.

A woman who is afflicted with the mortifying misfortune of a dull, sallow, pimply complexion or that listless movement and attitude which provokes only disgust and revulsion in the opposite sex; ought-to avail herself of the purifying, invigorating power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which makes a strong, healthy stomach and digestive organism; purifies the blood and imparts a natural stimulus to the excretory functions; insures healthy weight, clear skin, bright eyes and the animated manner and bearing of perfect health.

A lady living in West Virginia, Miss Aima callow, of Kyger, Roane Co., writes: "It is with pleasure I write you after using a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I think them valuable medicines for female troubles and weaknesses. I could hardly go about my work I had such inward weakness and constant misery in the womb. It worsted me so that I would give out in walking a short distance. I had a had cough and my lungs hurt me all the time. I got very thin, my complexion was bad, and my eyes would get so heavy in the evening they seemed stiff in the lids. I could hardly move them. Many persons were alarmed about me. I looked so bad and had such a cough; they were afraid I would go into consumption. I felt so badly every day that I had no life about me. ADVANCE IN CENTRAL PACIFIC STOCK, road Company has alvanced in New York from 17 to 231/4 a share. This has caused much comment in financial circles, and it is believed that a plan has been perfected for the adjustment of northwest, rushes to the defense of Althe company's indebtedness to the ger. This indicates, that Mr. Hanne, Government. Edward Hopkins, formerly treasurer of the company, is two out of the war, is not wholly deknown to be one of the purchasers of void of gratitude. the stock and he expects it to advance to 50 a share. Mrs. Jane Stanford is said to have had an offer for all or a part of her 93,500 shares, but she is not disposed to sell.

The Examiner says several prominent San Francisco bankers have ventured the opinion that the renewal of activity in Central Pacific stock after a prclonged period of repose, indicated beyond doubt that somebody knows that the Central Pacific people have succeeded in procuring the money necessary to pay what the road owes the Government, and to arrange the other bonded debts.

The Central Pacific stock is said to be divided between the Banbury Committee, an incorporated London company, which owns 342,000 shares, or a majority, C. P. Huntington, who owns or controls about 100,000 shares. a Holland syndicate, which has 125,000 shares, and some small owners in this country and Europe.

Under the recent Act of Congress, the Central Pacific must arrange within a year to pay all its indebtedness, principal and interest, to the Government within ten years, or foreclosure proceedings will be commenced by the Government and the property sold to the highest bidder. This will settle the railroad indebtedmess, and determine who shall own the road. As it is, with a debt of several millions on the property, and the question of ownership undetermined, the company makes no effort to develop the resources of the country along the road. Once the indebtedness of the road is settled, whether by the present company or a new syndicate, selfish motives, if none other, will impel the owners to encourage the development of the resources of the country tributary to the read, to increase its local business. As it is now, and as it has been for many years, the managers of the road have been endeavoring to create the impression that the road between Reno and Ogden, is practically a bridge, with no local business. With the debt paid, or provided for, the new owners, whoever they may be, will have an interest in reclaiming the fertile valleys of the Humboldt and its tributaries and in developing the vast and varied mineral resources of the country for at least one hundred and fifty miles north and pounds, but it is not so full this year. south of the road. Speed the day when the ownership of the Central Pacific is finally determined as it will be

WANTED-A SCIPEGOAT.

The Chicago Record, one of the Administration newspapers, publishes a picture of Secretary Alger, announcing at the top of his voice the immediate wants of the Government. These are a scapegoat, one who will admit that he is responsible for unsanitary military camps; one who will say that he is to blame for lack of medicines, nurses, surgeons, hospital cots and food for sick and wounded soldiers; one who will announce that he arranged to have returning troops starved on transports.

The Administration also wants more red tape to tie up the mouths of army officers, including the Commanding General, (Miles), and good reasons for court-martialing officers and others who are offensive to the Secretary of War. As there is about $309,000,000 available cash in the Treasury derived from the sale of interest-bearing bonds money is no object, and those who can supply the above badly needed wants of the Administration can name their own price.

The Republican party, with its customary modesty, claimed the credit of the victories achieved by Dewey and Schley, and is now ready to pay any amount of money to anybody who will relieve the Administration from the responsibility of treating our soldiers worse than Butcher Weyler did the Oubans.

THE PENSION BUSINESS.

The report of the Commissioner of Pensions for the last fiscal year'shows that the number of pensions allowed during the year was 56,737, of which 54,852 were for soldiers and 1,885 for mailore.

The number of pensioners on the rolls June 80, 1898, was 993,714 and the amount paid for pensions during the fiscal year ended on that date, was $144.651.879.

Comparison shows that more palsions for service in the war of the rebellion were granted during the last year than were allowed during the entire four years of President Grant's second term and the entire administration of President Hayes. The amount actually paid for pensions last year was largely in excess of the amount paid during the entire first or second term of President Grant and almost as much as was paid during the four years of President Hayes' administra- NEAT CLUB ROOMS ATTACHED

Statistics show that the farther we get away from the war of the rebellion the larger the pension rolls. This seems incredible, but it is nevertheless a fact.

THE Republican party since Mr Hanna got control of it stands for the single gold standard. Those who support that party assist in fastening the gold standard permanently on the country, and those who talk silver and vote the Republican ticket are either fools or knaves. If they are for silver The stock of the Central Pacific Rail- they cannot consistently vote for Hannaism.

The Elko Argonaut says the farmers in Mound valley are a unit on the silver question and, almost without exception, will support the Silver party State ticket. They believe that this is no time for partisan wrangling; that all and we are always ready to loyal men of Nevada, regardless of differences on other questions, should unite under one banner and demonstrate to the world that us one man our people will contend for their interests until they secure them.
